the stage. Whether it be physical force, will power, or physical magnetism is a question upon which medical authority and scientific men are divided. Miss Abbot invites the closest investigation, being confident that those who are most critical in their examination will be just as hopelessly confused, first as last.

George and Lizzie Bird are evoking much laughter in a chop-suey sketch, finally coming out as the Chink and Chinkee in a Chinese song and dance.

The three Alvalos do some clever tumbling and acrobatic work. Yukawa, the Japanese sleight of hand performer, is alone worth going to see—he takes the flags of all nations, rolls them into a ball, which all at once, becomes the star spangled banner. How it is done, nobody but Yukawa knows.

Many big and surprising things are in preparation for summer amusements. But I am under confidence to make no announcements at present. However, Salt Lakers will have plenty to see during the approaching warm weather.

Little Kittie Fordyce won all hearts at the Grand last Sunday evening with her winsome, childish sweetness. There was not much substance in the plaintive song she sang. But the caressing tenderness of her voice and her trim little figure, clad in fairy whiteness, were a combination to capture the ears and eyes of an audience.

Miss Corinne Harris also made an agreeable impression. Her song "The Wreath You Wove" was so well rendered that the encores and flowers which followed showed how completely Miss Harris had impressed the patrons of the Grand.

HARRY LE GRANDE.

Professor S. H. Clark, the celebrated elocutionist of Chicago, who has been giving recitals in this city, is one of the best of his profession, and has highly delighted large audiences in this city for several days this week. He is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. M. Cohen, being a brother-in-law of the former.

The Grand Master of the Odd Fellows of this jurisdiction has been making his official visits to city lodges this week.

"Reveille and Taps," the military drama by Mr. B. S. Young, will be presented at the Salt Lake theatre, Monday and Tuesday evenings, April 10th and 11th. The production is under the auspices of the local G. A. R., and is already exciting the keenest interest in local military circles.

In the military scenes of the play, the National Guardsmen will take part. A pretty and patriotic feature of the drama is the use which will be made of a historic battle flag which was carried to the famous heights of Lookout Mountain in the Civil war.

The flag, which is cherished in the family of the late John Morgan, was picked up by three successive color-bearers before being finally planted upon the smoke-wreathed heights. Two of the color-bearers were killed in making the attempt. The third, the late John Morgan, succeeded, by an act of heroic bravery, in planting the flag on the enemy's ground. This cherished flag will again appear in Mr. Young's war drama, being planted upon the mimic heights of Lookout Mountain by a son of the gallant Morgan.

Of your friends or relatives in the east who are contemplating movement to the west during the coming spring or summer.

There will be in effect during the spring months, from all eastern points to every section of the west, greatly reduced rates (both one way and round trip), and it will be to their interest that you give me the names of parties who may be induced by these rates to come west.
